Deep Pharma Intelligence team invites you to join the webinar where we will introduce our company and its founding partners Deep Knowledge Analytics and BiopharmaTrend, and share our insights and statistics about the Pharmaceutical Artificial Intelligence (AI) sector, including current trends, leaders in the “AI race”, key R&D partnership and major investment deals, and latest industry developments. We will pay particular attention to investment opportunities in this increasingly attractive market.

Also, we will introduce the prototype of our cloud-based analytics platform and dashboards, that will be useful for decision-makers and investors in the pharmaceutical/biotech space.
