

WIRED Health 2021

March 29, 2021 by BiopharmaTrend

WIRED Health highlights the most exciting, thought-provoking disruptors scientists and practitioners making a positive change in the way we provide and access health care. The editorially curated, community-driven event gathers medical practitioners, health technologists, pharmaceutical leaders and entrepreneurs for a day of eye-opening and inspirational stories. All tickets include access to the WIRED Health EY Startup Showcase.

WIRED Health will return virtually in 2021 to map the future of health, digital health and healthcare. Celebrating the thought-provoking disruptors, scientists and practitioners who are paving new paths in patient care, this event connects professionals with innovative brands and startups to provide the right inspiration and context for implementing change.

Each year since its launch in 2014, WIRED Health attracts hundreds of healthcare, pharmaceutical, researchers, technologists and influencers. This health community event provides a well-rounded overview of where the health industry is moving towards and highlights some of the most exciting startups and scaleups offering new technology making shift possible.

We will shortly share the agenda for WIRED Health 2021. Visit <http://wired.uk/health-event> for more details.
