

IBM's Machine Learning Models For Drug Discovery

Aug. 18, 2017 by BiopharmaTrend

IBM developed machine learning models to analyze correlations between diseases and side effects commonly caused by the medications used to treat them. Watch this video to see a visual analytics system to support the interactive exploration of these associations.